BACKGROUND

Harmed Patients Alliance (HPA) is a new campaign group whose mission is:

“To work collaboratively towards a future where harmed patients and families are respected and cared for, their needs are understood and met, their suffering is minimised and their recovery is enabled, where preventable second harm is eliminated.”

Baby Lifeline is a unique mother and baby charity, whose mission is to make care safer and better for every mother baby across the UK. The charity works with NHS professionals to provide equipment, life-saving training, and conduct research towards this aim.
